Return From
Camp at Morris

Seven Mokena Boy Scouts of troop 40 who spent the third period, July 5 to 11 at the Scout reservation at Morris, returned last Saturday. Those attending camp were Ted Dunham, Richard DeForest, Gerry Haehnlein, Leonard Hemmick, Tom Miller, Roger Swart and Tom Williams. The adult leader was Richard Dunham up to Thursday who was relieved by Rev. W. Riemann for the remainder of the week.

A series of violent rainstorms struck the camp late Sunday night flooding some of the low activity areas. Damage to the dam necessitated the emptying of Waupacan Lake Friday so it could be repaired. This brought about only a slight curtailment of the camp program at the waterfront. All the days were mild and sunny after the Sunday night storm.

The Mokena boys earned the camping honors for two days, Wednesday and Thursday, when they captured 47 and 43 points out of a possible 50. They brought back a plaque for this attainment.

Other awards were the Order of the Arrow to Ted Dunham and Richard DeForest; Archery to Leonard Hemmick, Tom Miller and Richard DeForest; Swimming, Roger Swart, Rifle Range, Richard DeForest.

N. Lenox Boy Scouts
Attend National Jamboree in Calif.

Three boys from New Lenox are attending the national Boy Scout jamboree at Santa Anna, Calif. They are Sheldon and Everett Hauck, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Hauck of New Lenox, and Stanley Bruns, son of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Bruns.

The boys were among the group from Rainbow Council that left from Kankakee last Sunday. They went by bus and will return August 1. En route they stopped at Boys Town near Omaha, Neb. where they stayed overnight, and en route home they will stop at other points of interest.

A meeting was set up a committee to visit Mr. Valy and talk the situation over. The committee consists of Roy C. Diebolt, J. W. Stewart, C. E. Bosard, Leo Senglin, with chairman Blaha, secretary-treasurer Dahowski, and attorney Perry.

It was brought out at the meeting that the property owners in Sunny Acres have recourse to one of three things: to fight this case in court, in case Mr. Valy refused their offer, to allow Mr. Valy to complete one house, or to allow him to complete two houses. A vote was taken with all property owners signing their names to their vote. The count showed 34 voted to go into court, 21 to allow Mr. Valy to finish one house, and six to allow him to finish two houses.

The majority felt that if they did not abide strictly by their original deed and allowed an instance of violation to occur they would soon encounter more violations. While they recognized Mr. Valy's position and some thought it would be neighborly to help him out in his plight and allow one or two houses to be constructed, still, considering that such construction would be in violation of the original deed they thought it best to correct it in the beginning and permit no violations, as a safeguard against repetition of this sort of thing in the future.

Another resolution passed was the forming of a permanent organization such as a Sunny Acres Improvement Association, or whatever they might choose to call such an organization. This was quickly agreed to. The following were chosen to study the situation and draw up a tentative set of laws: A. J. Schickling, J. W. Stewart, Elmer Palka, Roy E. Diebolt, and chairman Blaha and Secretary Edward Dahowski. They will report at the next meeting which will be held Tuesday, August 4, in the downstairs of the VFW hall.

A vote of thanks was given to the men property owners in Sunny Acres who had started this ball rolling and advised residents of this violation, at the same time thanking them for the notices they had prepared announcing this meeting, which had been delivered to each property owner.

GOOD FENCES MAKE GOOD NEIGHBORS

Amendment Ignored

"The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the states, are reserved to the states respectively, or to the people."

So reads the tenth amendment. For a score of years this amendment has been overridden by the so-called "welfare clause" in the Constitution's preamble, which has been interpreted by "do-gooders" to mean that the Federal government can do anything they consider necessary "to promote the general welfare."

By ignoring the tenth amendment, the "do-gooders" have built up a vast, costly Federal bureaucracy. We won't be free of this bureaucracy until we "bring government back home," so each state, county, and municipality can know its own responsibilities and have its own sources of revenue.

FRANKFORT
M. E. CHURCH TO TAKE CENSUS

The Frankfort Methodist church in cooperation with the membership and evangelism committee will take a religious census beginning July 20, and continuing through the week.

This census will be taken in Frankfort, Lincoln Estates, Lincolnwood Hills and from Route 45 south to the Clinton Mark road.

The reason for the survey is this: Half the homes in America have no contact with any church. These include thousands of homes in our cities, with persons who have their church membership in other places. They include former members of the official board, trustees, Sunday school teachers, and many others who, because of population shifts in the past decade, are lost to Christ until some church discovers them and brings them back into the fellowship. Likewise these include thousands who have never known Christ, have never identified themselves with His church, and who never will know the joy of his salvation unless they are discovered in a systematic house to house religious survey, census, or friendly community study.

The churches in this community will be informed of this religious survey. Those who will make the survey are: Mr. and Mrs. Lester Heisner, Mrs. Glen Ferrell, Mrs. Frank Heisner, Mrs. Lloyd Heisner, Mrs. Lilly Horschbach, Miss Patsy Heisner, Miss Mary Mark, Mrs. Ralph Heisner, Mrs. Wendell Morrison, Mrs. Betty Bixler.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hren, Clinton Mark, Roderick Rainford, Arthur Mark Jr., Ralph Dralle, Mrs. Harry Miller, Mrs. Carrie Johns, Mrs. Walter Carlsson Sr., Mrs. Daniel Hecht, William Breidert, Calvin Heath, Jr., Mrs. Marion Bell and Mrs. Henry Heusner.

The workers are to turn in all the completed cards to Lester Heisner, chairman of the committee. This should be on Sunday, July 26th.

2-4 D SPRAY
HAZARDOUS

Cook County Farm Adviser, Carl F. Mees issued a special warning to 2, 4-D operators today to be cautious of 2, 4-D drifting. Many crops, including tomatoes, soy beans and clovers, are injured by 2, 4-D. Serious injury has resulted in many areas in the county.

Drifting occurs and causes damages as far as a mile away from the field sprayed and takes place up to 48 hours after the spraying has been done.

Mees reports that in some cases the wind has shifted 24 hours after the spray was applied and serious damage has resulted on tomatoes opposite the direction from which the wind was originally from.

Other types of 2, 4-D are more effective against weeds than are the amine or sodium salt types but are more apt to do damage also.

Mees stressed that 2, 4-D operators should use precautions in applying 2, 4-D rather than being sorry after the damage is done.

Remember, 2, 4-D is not a complete substitute for cultivation or other cultural practices.

BABSON SAYS—

Copyright 1953, Publishers

Financial Bureau, Inc.
Babson Park, Enemy number one is not Communism or any other "ism." Enemy number one is Weight, I don't refer to your weight or my weight. We all can control this by the simple method of eating less, and thus avoiding "second helpingitis". Instead, I am referring today to the cost of transportation, amounting to over 100 billion dollars a year, of which I estimate 80% is due to the weight of goods and not to the labor and other costs.

Whatever we eat, wear, or use at home starts from the forests, mines or farms. At these points of origin the costs are very low. For instance, standing timber sells for $2.00 per cord; coal in the mine sells for $1.00 per ton; and a bushel of wheat on the farm for only about $2.00. We pay ten times these costs after they are transported to our home or breakfast table. If weight could be reduced 85% I believe the cost of living would tumble 70%.

This brings me to my hobby of Gravity which is the cause of this wasteful weight. Thus far no insulator, absorber, or reflector of Gravity has been discovered, but this will be accomplished some day. All other forces, such as light, sound, odor, electricity, magnetism, x-rays and even atomic rays can be shut off. Met allurgists will soon discover a means of partially insulating or reflecting Gravity waves. This discovery will revolutionize manufacturing, transportation and distribution.

Nothing to Worry About

Some people fear that if we interfere with Gravity they would rise to the ceiling of the room, or if out of doors, disappear in the skies. There is absolutely no danger of this. The same fears were expressed when our first ancestors discovered fire and later when Franklin tried to harness lightning. When a partial insulator or reflector of Gravity is discovered it can be controlled as well as fire or electricity or atomic rays. Furthermore, this can be accomplished safely whether the Gravity waves come from the sky and push us down, or come from the earth and pull us down.

The Gravity Research Foundation of New Boston, N. H. tells me that such an insulator would not reduce our weight if used for shoe soles or stair treads. In order to take advantage of such a partial insulator or reflector we must be wholly encased as if we were in a sealed coffin and this wouldn't do us much good. This is another reason why one needs fear the control of Gravity. We should rather fear the lack of control of our appetites! To us, starches may be more dangerous than Gravity.

As indicated above, there is little hope for reducing the weight of automobiles, trucks or even freight cars. But there is real hope for reducing the weight of their contents. One of the early developments will be hermetically sealing truck trailers with an anti-gravity alloy. This same principle will be used to reduce the weight of trunks and suitcases. I believe that Russian scientists are now desperately at work to discover a Gravity reflector to very much lessen the weight of the packs which all soldiers carry on their backs. Think what this would mean to the nine million of our own boys. Readers will think of other illustrations but remember that only the enclosed contents can be de-weighted.

Of course the greatest boom would take place in connection with the airplane. Why the Government and airplane manufacturers do not give the subject more serious consideration is beyond my comprehension. The engineers answer me by saying they are "too busy with other things to bother about Gravity". My reply is that 40 years ago when the Goodyear Company was making lighter than air dirigibles and I asked why they did not help the Wright Brothers in making heavier than air airplanes, they gave the same reply: "We're too busy." All of which reminds me of what Thom as Edison said to me shortly before he died: "Babson, we don't know anything yet. The young people now graduating from schools and colleges have far greater opportunities than we ever had if they will only work save and study."

All previous records were broken by Harvey Federal Savings and Loan Association, Harvey, as disclosed by its June 30 financial statement released this week, according to Foss P. Miller, chairman of the board of directors. Total assets were $9,494,672.96, compared with $8,794,830.17 on June 30, 1952, an increase of $699,842.79. The bulk of the increase was mortgage loans which were $7,985,426.27 at the six months end, compared to $7,531,745.69 a year ago, an increase of $453,680.58. These loans were held by a total of 1,691 borrowing families, an increase of 62. Of the total, $2,542,436.34 were insured by the agencies of the United States government, $1,996,453.94 being loans to veterans insured by the Veterans Administration and $545,992.40 were FHA insured loans. Holdings of United States Government Bonds reached a new peak of $965,059.63, a gain of $279,983.63 over the figures a year ago.

Mr. Miller commented, "On the liability side the principal change was a net gain in outstanding savings balances of $1,271,828.00, raising this total to $8,259,992.88. The flow of new savings into the Association was especially rapid during the last six months which showed a net gain of $841,182.00. At the close of the period, the total number of persons, firms and corporations having savings in the Association also reached a new record of 11,007, an increase of 1,392 during the year, these persons holding 6,650 savings accounts."

'Pleasant Dreams...'

If I can find, when day is done, Such pleasant thoughts to dwell upon
As having, in another's need, Performed a single kindly deed, Then I shall sink into my sleep Without the fear that there will creep
Into my dreams the awful things That an uneasy conscience brings And I shall not so worried be That sleeplessness will torture me;
For if I cannot sleep—well, then I'll think my pleasant thoughts again!

QUICK-HITCH ALL-PURPOSE MOWER

Quick-Hitch and go... at tractor speeds... ahead of weather—that's the Allis-Chalmers No. 3 Mower. It steers with the tractor, because it's close-coupled. It's fast in the hayfield or pasture. Cut square corners without backing. Take full-width swaths, even on hillsides.

Smooth, shock-absorbing V-Belt drives the sickle through toughest grass. Cutter bar lifts hydraulically for turns. Mower pivots back into safety position when an obstruction is hit.

And for clipping pastures... the new Allis-Chalmers Topping Attachment holds cutter bar uniformly from 4 to 8 inches above ground level.

Let us show you this time-saving, all-purpose mower for your B, C, WC, CA or WD Tractor.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

An Honest Night's Sleep

Slim Johnson, just back from a business trip, tells about a hotel he stayed at one night.

"I hit town late and went right to the hotel. There was no clerk at the desk, but there was a sign that said: 'Gone to bed. Rooms $3. Take a key. Pay when you leave. Sleep Well.'"

"Upstairs, the room was real clean, the bed comfortable, and I slept like a log. Came down in the morning—still no clerk. So I left three dollars at the desk and went on. Can you imagine folks that trustful?"

From where I sit, running a hotel on the honor system shows a real trust in people. And people always appreciate being trusted. Letting your neighbor follow his personal preference is a kind of trust too—trusting in his good judgment. I like a temperate glass of beer occasionally, you may prefer buttermilk, but let's hope neither of us "registers" a complaint against the other.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The ghost town of Marfil and the Catacombs of Guana Juato. June 25, 1953

Every weekend, I take a trip somewhere in Mexico to see and learn more about Mexico. Last weekend I went to Marfil, Irapuato and Guana Juato, the capital of the State of Guana Juato. Since coming to Leon I have been pretty lucky in taking these trips because I met a man from Texas who does the same work as I do. He has his car here so we usually take some pretty long trips.

On this trip last weekend, we took an interpreter with us, who knows this part of the country as it will be very difficult to get about the city of Guana Juato without help, as you will see later on in this story.

Our first stop was the ghost town of Marfil which was a big silver mining town in the mountains. The mines played out about 50 years ago, and most everyone left town except a few poor people who are still living there in these old buildings, rent free. All of these buildings were built of stone, and many have stone walls two and three feet thick. Many of these buildings were three and four stories high. Now all that is left of Marfil is a mass of stone walls, as far as you can see in either direction. The roofs, being made of wood, are all rotted away. There are also many large churches scattered about the hills of the ghost town, that have not been entered in the past 50 years. The streets of Marfil are very narrow and hilly, and often cross each other by means of overhead passes or bridges from one mountain slope to another.

One thing that interested me very much was, what was left of, what might have been a large Indian temple. All that is left of this stone building is a huge square column about 20 feet high with the head of an Indian carved in stone. I could not find out much about this structure, because our interpreter did not know much about it.

Our next stop was Irapuato, just a few miles from Marfil. On entering Irapuato the first thing I thought of was Maxwell street in Chicago. Here the streets were crowded, with natives, "mostly Indians", selling anything from shoes to candy and sliced pine apple, as well as straw berries, cakes, cookies and a variety of native fruits. To me all this did not look very appetizing, as I saw these people handling all this with their dirty hands. Still many people were walking the streets, eating a slice of pine apple, candy or a taco, which is a thin dry Mexican pancake with chopped meat rolled inside. What kind of meat we were not interested to find out.

Our next stop was the City of Guana Juato, a few miles further, and here was where our interpreter and guide came in handy, as it would be very difficult for anyone who does not know the city to get anywhere there. We first visited a beautiful park, high in the mountains. This reminded me of some of the movies I saw of Tarzan in the jungles of Africa, except that we did not see Tarzan or any wild animals. However we did see some beautifully colored birds and a few small monkeys enjoying themselves, eating wild bananas, running up and down, or swinging on large overhead vines. We had to watch these monkeys, because if they got too bored at the people watching them, they would sometimes throw a coconut or a banana, and then laugh at us. In this park there were also many large trees bearing small flowers of various colors.

Our next place of interest was a large church in another part of the mountains. As near as I could find out, this church was built in the year of 1712, and from the looks of its large weather beaten doors, it could be that old. I was told that much of the stone used in the building of this church contained large deposits of gold, also that this church was built at the entrance of an abandoned gold mine.

From the church we drove around through the city of Guana Juato. Here our guide was again needed, as we drove over nothing but one way streets some of them so narrow a car could just get through. No street in Guana Juato is level or straight for more than two feet and they all have very sharp curves and steep hills. Many of these streets have very peculiar names such as "Lane of the Monkeys", "Le a p Street", "Street of the Croaking Frog", "Street of the Kiss" etc. Of course, these names don't sound so funny in Spanish.

Our next and last stop was at the cemetery, and this is one place I will never forget. This was about one hour's drive, up and down very steep hills, and around very sharp curves. This road circled around through the mountains so much that we crossed it several times before reaching the cemetery.

Arriving at the cemetery, it looked like a large prison wall, with its large iron gate, but on entering we saw this wall was a mass of burial vaults about 12 feet high, six feet thick, and all around the cemetery. Inside this wall there were many graves with large tomb stones etc. There graves were all bought and paid for, and the dead are never disturbed in these graves. The vaults are rented, and the rent must be paid a year in advance. Each vault is sealed with a slab of stone, with the name of the person and date of burial. When the rent is not paid, the vault is opened. The slab with name of dead person is used for walls in the cemetery and the remains are taken to a large stone cellar in the cemetery. This cellar is reached by a winding and circular stairway, made of stone. In one end of this cellar is a huge pile of human skulls and bones, piled up like so much wood, and these are the remains of the dead whose burial vault rent has not been paid.

In the main hall way of this cellar are long lines of mummified bodies stood up against the walls. There are men and women and children, and even small babies, some of them buried as long as 10 years whose bodies are still in pretty good condition. Even their clothes and shoes are still on them. They have tags on them, with their name and date of burial. These are those whose rent has not been paid.

There are also many other things of interest in Guana Juato, but we spent a whole day on this trip so this is all I have to write about now.

This is a True Case History
I SAVED $116.86 ON THE CAR I BOUGHT

"I made over a 50% down payment on a late-model car. I was told it would cost me $257.60 to insure the car and finance the balance of $700.00. Lucky for me I'd talked to a State Farm agent first, because I used the Bank Plan instead and paid an insurance and financing charge of only $140.74. I saved $116.86." (One of many actual cases.)

Comments From The Bench

by Ruth & Ruth

Have any of you readers ever written a story about something you didn't see happen? Well, that happens to have been the situation with these comments about the Frankfort-Manhattan ball game. Neither of us was able to be at the game due to illness, but thanks to Mrs. Reuben Borms, who took down all kinds of notes, we are able to bring you the results.

Our Frankfort girls swamped the Manhattan girls 26 to 2 in a very lopsided ball game Thursday evening at the Frankfort diamond. These hard hitting gals scored fifteen runs in the first inning off the pitching of Edith O'Connor. D. Blatte was the Manhattan catcher. In the second inning, Manhattan changed batteries and a girl called "Punky" came in to pitch. E. O'Connor took over first base. Little "Punky" did very well for two innings, pitching shut out ball, but then in the fourth and fifth innings, she gave up three runs each, and in the sixth, five runs, making the twenty six runs for Frankfort.

Arleen Flesher did the pitching for Frankfort and Carole Peterson was behind the plate. By glancing at the scorebook, we see that during the seven innings, Arleen pitched to only thirty one batters, which averages about four or sometimes five girls an inning and gave up only two runs. In the second, Edith O'Connor tripled and scored and in the fifth, M. Fitzgerald singled and later scored.

There were a couple of happenings which can't go unmentioned. One was Inez Reuter's fifth inning attempt to bunt. Coach Reuben Borms has been drilling his girls for weeks making them practice bunting and Inez was the first brave one to try it in a game. She tried again and fouled it off. By that time the Manhattan infield knew of her intentions so she gave up the idea, slugged the ball on the ground, and made it safely to first base. However, she wasn't satisfied there. She jerked her jeans up at the knees and on the next pitch, took off for second base, making it easily. Once again, she jerked up her jeans and took off for third, but was trapped midway. During the run down which followed, she got to her destination due to an overthrow error of the second baseman. Many of the fans had palpitations during that rundown.

In the fourth inning, Irene Benck was the heroine when she did a beautiful job of fielding and saved several runs from scoring. With bases loaded, Frankfort's third baseman stopped a fast grass cutter easily meant to be a solid hit, and tossed to Jean Lentz at first for the out.

And so, until next time, here ends our quips for this week.

mark since July, 1950, with 22 deaths.

During the first six months, O'Connor saw hope in the fact that 16 fewer fatalities occurred than in the same months of 1952 the total being 195 compared to 211.

Sonny Bessette Wins Feature Race At Joliet Stadium

Sonny Bessette, the No. 1 Joliet driver last season, will be trying to hold that position again this year when he goes after his second consecutive feature race victory in the midget auto racing program Saturday night in Joliet Memorial Stadium.

Bessette took an easy victory in the feature last weekend, when he started in 14th position and gained the lead on the sixth lap. He became the first Joliet pilot to win a feature race this year.

Included on Saturday's program are four 10 lap heat races, a six lap trophy dash, 15 lap semi-feature and 25 lap feature. Time trials start at 7:30 p. m. and the first race at 8:30 o'clock.

BACTERIAL WILT CAUSES SWEET CORN DAMAGE

Bacterial wilt has been causing severe damage in sweet corn in southern and central Illinois, M. B. Linn, University of Illinois plant disease specialist, reports that some sweet corn fields in Tazewell, Woodford, Iroquois and Vermilion counties will be plowed up. In some areas, he says, three-fourths or more of the stalks show wilt damage.

Young plants affected by bacterial wilt, also known as Stewart's disease, wilt and die. The lower part of the stalk may be completely rotted. In older plants the disease shows up in pale green or yellowish to brown streaks in the leaves, bleached tassels and stunting of plants.

Linn says that some of the older plants may live through the disease if the infection isn't too bad.

Bacteria causing the wilt live over the winter in the corn flea beetles, Linn explains, and last year's mild winter didn't kill many of the beetles. The Illinois Natural History Survey reports that a second brood of these insects is appearing. Plant pathologists of the Survey predicted in April that the disease would cause trouble this year.

MM POWERFLOW DRIVE—THE SMOOTHEST, MOST EXACTING OF ALL SPEED CONTROLS

Minneapolis-Moline now offers the greatest sensation in combine development—the Self-Propelled Harvester with Powerflow Hydraulic Drive. It gives exactly the right speed with all the power you need for any crop and any field condition. A drive unit so flexible that movement of the control lever instantly regulates the speed from zero m.p.h. to maximum speed in any selected gear without changing engine speed or sacrificing power. Nor does ground speed regulation interfere with the combining mechanism that always runs at uniform speed for the most efficient combining results.

TINLEY B'S WIN 4-3

A home run by pitcher Jack Tomlinson with a man on, in the third inning, led Tinley Park to a 4 to 3 victory over the Harvey Merchants Monday night. It was Tinley's fourth win, against one loss, including Friday nights forfeit.

Tinley made up for shaky fielding with seven hits, four of which went for extra bases. Bob Mason aided the cause with a single and a double and scored two runs.

In the first inning Mason led off with a single and scored when Jerry Hug tripled to left field. After two outs Harry Ver Wey drove in the second run of the inning with another three base hit. Those were the only runs scored until Tomlinson's homer accounted for the other two.

Horse Continues To Vanish as Motor Traffic Increases

(CNS) A record 623,899 city of Chicago auto vehicle licenses for cars under 35 horsepower were issued in the first six months of 1953, compared to 608,876 in the comparative period of 1952, City Collector William T. Prendergast announces.

The bigger cars, over 35 horse power, also set a record, with 93,873 compared to 74,879.

This five per cent increase in passenger car ownership contrasted with a two per cent reduction in trucks licensed, from 71,347 to 69,988. The tendency to move trucking offices outside the city was blamed. Trailers increased, however from 328 to 988.

The disappearing horse reached a new low, with only 100 of the faithful creatures licensed compared to 132 in the first six months of 1952 and 168 during the entire year.

Motorcycles are also on a downward swing, the figures showed. Only 2,067 were licensed compared to 2,227 in the first six months of 1952.

Meanwhile despite the increasing city traffic, Police Commissioner Timothy J. O'Connor reported June was the safest month in Chicago traffic, death-wise, since August, 1952, with 24 deaths each. This is the lowest
